BACKBONE VS. WISHBONE

Proportionately, if a man's backbone weakens, his "wishbone" develops. The nine-dollar per clerk wastes his time in wishing he had the luck of a Rockefeller, a Carnegie or a Morgan—wishing that he had this, that or the other job—continually wishing.

The material parts of the human body, muscles or bone, develop only by usage. There is not, in nature, any spontaneous generation; everything comes by propagation.

Which are you developing—your backbone or your "wishbone"?—Do not confound them.—By constantly using your "wishbone" it will develop in undue proportions. On the other hand, in properly strengthening your backbone you should have no cause to wish.

"Brace up," stand erect, strengthen your backbone—also your jaw-bone. Learn to say, "I will!" instead of that monotonous "I wish."
The world bestows prizes on men with a backbone, while to those with a "wishbone," asking for fish, she gives a serpent.

Motion propagates motion and life throws off life. Wishing you were fabulously rich leads you to the bread line.—Plate Maker's Criterion.

A year ago Mrs. Christine Webber, of San Francisco, was glancing casually over some bodies in the morgue and recognized one as her husband, whom she had not seen for five months, and from whom she was seeking a divorce. Wishing to do the right thing Mrs. Webber had the remains sent to her house, and gave them a real nice funeral. The other day her husband appeared.
Those remains she had buried were not his at all. And now, besides the expense of that funeral, mourning, and all that, Mrs. Webber has to spend money on a divorce suit. Aggravating?

By the way, what has become of Frank Munsey's "holding company" to hold things in shape for the Bull Moose? says the Commercial Appeal.
Couldn't anything be found strong enough to do the holding or wasn't there anything to hold?

THE INCOME TAX

The necessary number of states having, through their respective legislatures, ratified the sixteenth amendment to the Constitution, known as the income tax amendment, it is now in order for Congress to formulate and pass a law to that effect, says the Commercial Appeal.

One object of this proposed law is to make men pay the government for the protective aid they receive while building up their incomes, but another is to raise a sum for public expenditures that shall supply the deficiencies of a revision of the tariff. Rough estimates put this downward revision at a sum between $125,000,000 and $150,000,000, and it has got to be made back in some legitimate way. To the academic mind this looks like a national illustration of "robbing Peter to pay Paul," but the wisdom of it is in the way it is done.

A reduced tariff cheapens the cost of living for everybody, but is necessarily a greater boon to the poor. Taxing incomes makes the rich man pay adequately for the greater amount of protection the government affords him. If it was not for that protection he could not build up a business that would net him such splendid returns. The rich man has ships at sea, and must pay for protection from sea robbers.
The rich man has mining and commercial interests in foreign countries and he must pay for the shadow of the protecting stars and stripes that falls over those interests. The rich man has jewels to wear, and houses to rent at a profit to poor men, and he must pay for policies and fire protection. And so on down the line; the rich man gets more out of government institutions and therefore he must pay the government more for looking after him and his assets.

That is the reason why our representative, Congressman Hull, of Tennessee, is watching Mr. Underwood's work in the tariff schedules with such a sharp eye. Congressman Hull is a highly competent member of the ways and means committee, and it is he who is shaping up the income tax law upon which Congress will pass.

Naturally there is a wide curiosity as to the workings of this law—what incomes will be affected by it, and to what extent. At first the general impression was that only incomes of $5,000 and up would be taxed, and that the levy would be uniformly 1 per cent; but now the impression is that men who make as much as $3,500 will be called on to respond to tax call, and that the levy, starting at 1 per cent for the smaller incomes, will rise as high as 2 1/2 per cent where the income is very large.

These figures, however, are speculative, and nothing will be definitely known until the tariff revision makes it apparent what financial hole is to be filled up. All that is definitely known is that the states, speaking through their legislative organs, have decreed that such a law shall be enacted and that this next Congress will pass it.

SMASHING PRECEDENTS

The president has not been in office so many days as yet, but he has smashed precedents right and left.
This precedent-breaking has been classified as follows:

First came the downfall of the inaugural ball.

Second, the favorite barber. The president shaves himself.

Third, parading office-seekers at the White House. No pie-hunters are admitted until sent for.

Fourth, the president is going to run the government. Politicians may make only suggestions.

Fifth, the president goes to church to worship, not to be seen.

Sixth, the gold braid and lace business has been eliminated. Major Rhoades dresses like an every-day citizen when he goes out with the president.

Seventh, the khaki-clothed motorcycle policemen, who used to follow the White House automobile, have been given other employment. The president rides without bicycle escorts.

Eighth, the ancient custom of draping the president's box at the theater and playing the national anthem when the president arrives has been put in the discard.

Ninth, the old "it is said" has disappeared from the White House, and instead it appears, "the president said."

Tenth, "that was said in a cabinet meeting" is and cannot be made public" is of the past. What transpires at a cabinet meeting is public property.

Eleventh, the bi-weekly cabinet meetings are under the ban. The cabinet will meet when there is something to be done.

Twelfth, the promiscuous use of the "executive order" has been stopped.

Thirteenth, President Wilson rests the seventh day. He puts the bars of the White House up Saturday night at 12 o'clock and lets them stay up until Monday morning.

Fourteenth, cold suppers are to be the rule at the White House Sunday evenings; the old Presbyterian rule will prevail.

Fifteenth, the president declined an invitation to the Chevy Chase Club.

Sixteenth, all sorts of intoxicating drinks have been tabooed at the White House.

We are not surprised that Safford has a ways failed in her efforts to secure the county seat. How can a town as prosperous as this is, that will not support a Chamber of Commerce, expect to successfully carry through such a project as that of removing the county seat. It seems to us that it is about time for our people to come to their senses.

The material for the street lights has arrived, and is being put in place this week. The lighting company expects to have the material in place and commence lighting the streets about the first of next month.
—Lordsburg Liberal. If an electric light plant will pay in Lordsburg, it certainly ought to be a money-maker in Safford.

The old drones, crokes, mosebacks and knockers of Safford should feel satisfied now that they have succeeded in killing the Chamber of Commerce, and the wide-awake business men of the town should be proud for permitting them to accomplish their object.

PROMINENT IN GRAHAM CO.

Seeking a market for hay in this section of Cochise county W. A. Gillespie, of Solomonville, and Dick Clifford, of Safford, two of the pioneer citizens of Graham county, arrived in Bisbee Tuesday morning. They left in the afternoon for Douglas, after contracting the sale of some twenty cars of hay here. Mr. Gillespie is a brother of Lige Clifford of Nacozari, Sonora, and will go there from Douglas for a visit with him.

Mr. Gillespie is one of the largest land owners in the Gila valley and has more than five hundred acres in alfalfa. Mr. Gillespie stated that recently there has been a decline in the price of hay and is now selling for $11.00 per ton loaded on cars whereas the bulk of last season's crop was disposed of at $12. He says there is no amount of old hay in the hands of producers and that it will all be disposed of before the coming crop of this year is ready to cut.

A PROGRESSIVE DEMOCRAT

Mr. Gillespie is and has been for more than a quarter of a century a constant democrat and is one of the original men to advocate many of the progressive features that have become so prominent and popular since they were adopted by the politicians.

Always an ardent admirer of Mr. Bryan, Mr. Gillespie stated Tuesday that he was surprised to see him go into the cabinet, but predicted that his term there would be short. In 1904, Mr. Bryan not being a candidate for president, Gillespie joined the democrats in Arizona favorable to William Randolph Hearst and was chosen a delegate to the National convention.

Mr. Gillespie stated Tuesday that he believed that the democrats had put a pure and able man in the White House and that he had no fears for the future of his party if the congress and senate will but follow the lead of Woodrow Wilson.
He does not approve of much that has been done by our present state administrator, but is hopeful that all defects will be remedied so that the democrats may remain united and successful in Arizona as well as in the nation.—Bisbee Review.

OUR SISTER REPUBLIC

In the land of the banana, Where they grow the fruit manana, And the password of the peon is quien sabe, don't you see;
They have curious ways of doing,
And there's trouble always brewing,
When a "general" plans a coup d'etat, Whatever that may be.

Now there's old Porfirio Diaz, He's in Europe, that's where he is,
But he used to make things hum a bit when voting time came round.
Talk of Roosevelt! Speak of Bryan!
He could beat them without tryin', As a candidate perennial he was always on the ground.

But Francisco I. Madero,
With a hatful of dinero, (Which 'tis said that Wall St. furnished) ran Porfirio out of town; Then Francisco took the helm,
As the ruler of the realm, Chief dispenser of frijoles and tamales done up brown.

Presto! Mr. H. L. Wilson, Representing Taft and Stinson, Likewise certain business applicants for deeds of title clear; Didn't like Madero's brother, Boasted one side, then the other, Till the proletariat classes didn't know which side to cheer.

Poor old Suarez! Poor Madero!
Lost their lives and their dinero, And their relatives are scattered from the tropics to the poles; While those Senora, de la Barra, Huerta, Felix, they no car's That the Montezuma palace has been shot plumb full of holes.

But there's riot on the border,
And there's plenty lack of order, Much the same as with Madero and perhaps a little worse;
They have bricked their Constitution, But they're made no restitution For the loss of lives and property; but rather the reverse.

There's Oroscio in the foothills, With big spurs strapped to his boot heels, He will canonade Chihuahua if his wants are not supplied; There are Yaguis in Sonora, Rebel hordes in Sinaloa, And Zapata to the southward says he won't be pacified.

Viva Blanquet! (Viva Brutus!) Viva Huerta! (Or he'll shoot us), Viva all the murderous ruffians now in charge in Mexico!
When at last 'tis known Madero (Foully murdered) was a hero, Then "Madero vive! Reveng!" then they'll get their quid pro quo.
—W. C. MYERS.

THE EDITOR'S SONG

How dear to my heart is the steady subscriber Who pays in advance, without skipping a year;
Who lays down his dollars, and offers them gladly,
And casts round the office a halo of cheer.

Who never says: "Stop it, I cannot afford it!"
Or "Getting more papers each day, than I need!"
But always says: "Send it, the WHOLE OUTFIT likes it—
In fact, we regard it a BUSINESS need."

How welcome is he when he steps in the sanctum
How he makes "our heart" throb, and makes "our eye" dance!
We outwardly thank him—we inwardly bless him—
The steady subscriber who pays in advance!

Why He Was Late

"What made you so late?"
"I met Smithson."
"Well, that is no reason why you should be an hour late getting home to supper."

"I know, but I asked him how he was feeling, and he insisted on telling me about his stomach trouble."
"Did you tell him to take Chamberlain's Tablets?"
"Sure, that is what he needs."

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H.
Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes:
"My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c. and $1.00. Recommended by Safford

"Clean Up the Bowels and Keep Them Clean"

There is a remedy to be had for constipation, and that is without violence. A remedy that does not perform by force, which I should be accomplished by persuasion is Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets.
After using them,
Mr. N. A. Waddell,
315 Washington
St., Waco, Tex.,
says:

"Almost all my trouble with constipation, and have tried many remedies, all of which seemed to cause pain without giving much relief. I finally tried Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets and found them excellent. Their action is pleasant and mild, and their chocolate taste makes them easy to take. I am more than glad to recommend them."

"Clean up the bowels and keep them clean," is the advice of all physicians, because they realize the danger resulting from habitual constipation. Do not delay too long, but begin proper curative measures.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are a new remedy for this old complaint, and a great improvement over the cathartics you have been using in the past. They taste like candy and work like a charm. A trial will convince you.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory after trial, return the box to your druggist and he will return your money.

HARVESTING MACHINES

Over 95 per cent of the grain harvested in this country is bound by harvesting machines and less than five per cent of it is bound by hand. What do you think of the ones who are so far behind the times as to be binding by hand?

OVER 95 PER CENT of the business of this country is done by Bank check instead of handling the money, because it is the safest and most convenient way of doing business. There is no reason why 99 per cent should not be done in this way.

The few people who are not using the conveniences offered by a Bank such as this, are placing themselves in the same class as the ones who are still binding their grain by hand.
The relations existing between this Bank and its customers are close and cordial. We esteem it a compliment to have people lay claim to the institution as being their Bank. Is it also yours?

You should have a Check Account at this Bank.
